G7 Finance Leaders set Guidelines for CBDCs

G7 (Group of Seven) advanced economies' central banks have been working to set common standards toward issuing 'Central Bank Digital Currency' (CBDC).

- ◆ As per the statement of G7, any CBDC issued by a central bank should not harm the bank's ability to fulfill its mandate on monetary and financial stability, and also should meet the standards.

What is CBDC ?

- ◆ A CBDC is a legal tender that would be issued by the central bank in a digital form. It is exchangeable one-to-one with fiat currency and it would appear as a liability (currency in circulation) on a central bank's balance sheet.
- ◆ A CBDC would complement cash and could act like a liquid, safe settlement asset and an anchor for the payments system.

G7's Statement on CBDC :

- ◆ Any CBDC should be grounded in long-standing public commitments to transparency, rule of law and sound economic governance
- ◆ The currencies must be issued in a way that does not violate the central banks' mandates and meet rigorous standards of privacy, transparency and accountability for the protection of user data.
- ◆ CBDCs could enhance cross-border payments and minimize harmful spillovers to the international monetary and financial system. Currently, China has been leading toward issuing a digital currency.

Note :

- ◆ In July 2021, the Reserve Bank of India's Deputy Governor  $\text{$T$}$ . Rabi Sankar stated about the RBI's plan for the phased introduction of a CBDC. Click here to know more
